SHOULD GOLFERS LEARN TO PLAY OR PLAY TO LEARN?

This is a question I have thought long and hard about over the last few years. So much so that I have asked the same question of dozens of top Tour Pros.

You may or may not be surprised to learn that they all said they learned actually "play" golf on the golf course and then fine tune their skills on the range, short game area and putting green.

It's that in mind, I have put together 3 unique 3 hour experiences to help you play better golf by playing to learn. Combining your existing golf skills with improved course management and a stronger mental game will soon have you playing golf better than you ever imagined and having more fun in the process.

You may wish to do this on a 1-1 basis or with friends or colleagues, the choice is yours, as is when you choose to start "PLAYING TO LEARN."
